

REFERENCE LABORATORY TESTING NOTICE

Patients:

When your Pap smear returns and is read as Atypical Squamous Cells of Uncertain Significance (ASCUS) (Class II), the Pap smear is then sent to an outside reference laboratory for automatic reflex testing to rule out precancerous cells. This is a separate charge from your original Pap smear that comes directly from the outside laboratory.

If other labs or cultures are sent to an outside laboratory for testing, you may also receive a separate bill from the lab as well.

If you have any questions regarding this charge, please consult with your provider at the time of your office visit.

Also, please be aware that when your provider gives you an order for a preventive outpatient test such as mammogram, bone density test, etc., this does not guarantee that it will be covered by insurance.
